

A simpler booking experience for ABC Tutoring

Making it easy for families to find the right tutor — without the phone calls

BEFORE

Parents contact Dana by phone to ask about tutors and schedule sessions

-  Parents call Dana to ask which tutors are available
-  Dana shares tutor details and rates one by one
-  Scheduling is coordinated back and forth over the phone
-  Managing all of this manually is becoming too time-consuming

AFTER

Families browse and book online — on their own time, without calling

-  Parents explore tutor profiles anytime, at their convenience
-  Families see tutor availability and choose a time that works
-  A session request is submitted in just a few minutes
-  Dana gets time back — and families get a faster experience

Understanding what parents need

The website automatically tracks three things Dana asked to measure

Subjects Parents Search For

See which subjects parents are looking for most often — so you know where demand is highest and can plan accordingly.

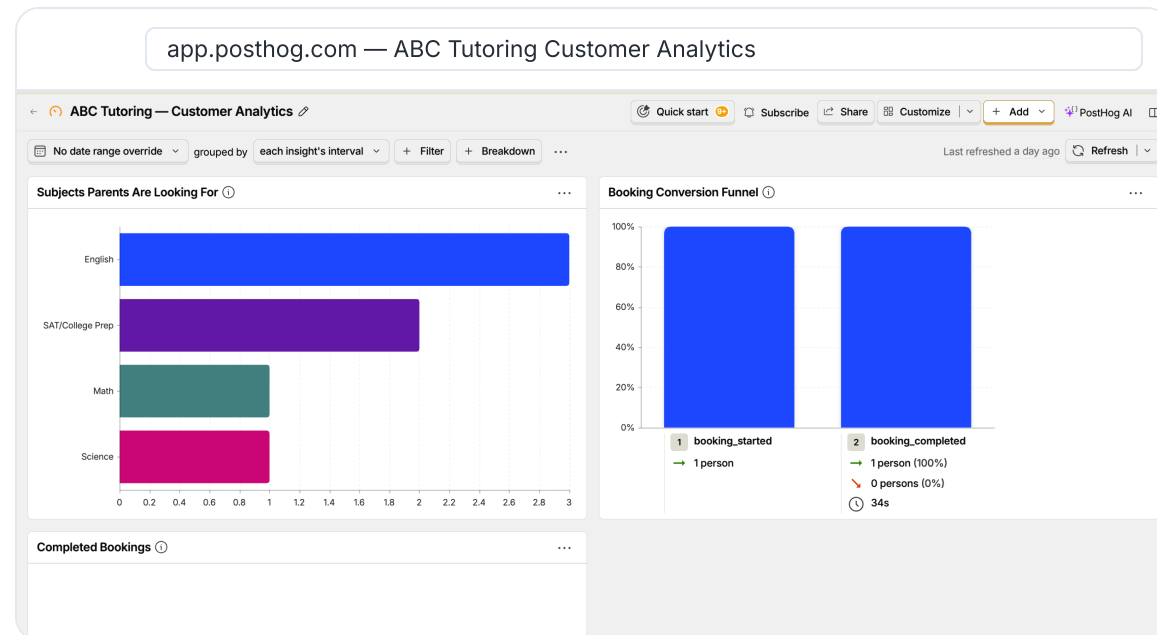

Booking Journey

See how many visitors start a booking and how many actually complete it — and spot where families leave before finishing.

Completed Bookings

Track how many session requests are successfully submitted as real families start using the site.

A note on current numbers

The values shown in the analytics dashboard today come from prototype testing — not real visitor traffic. These metrics become meaningful as families start using the live website. The prototype demonstrates exactly how subject demand and booking completions will be measured.

Turning website activity into useful decisions

What these insights allow Dana to do over time

- ✓ Know which subjects are in highest demand — and make sure the right tutors are available to meet it
- ✓ Adjust tutor schedules and availability to match what parents are actually searching for
- ✓ See exactly where families leave before booking — and improve that step to increase completions
- ✓ Track how many bookings come in over time — and grow the business with real data, not guesswork
- ✓ Reduce manual phone coordination — families book themselves, freeing Dana's time for what matters most

ABC Tutoring now has a prototype that makes booking simpler and faster for families — and gives Dana the visibility she needs to grow her business with confidence.

Built for Dana · ABC Tutoring prototype · 2026